

According to Ernst & Young, skills-based volunteer programs, like mentoring, have organizational benefits that include a more engaged workforce, improved career development, longer tenure, and higher performance ratings.

Host a Career Mentor Recruitment Presentation

We are a nationally recognized expert in empowering students to succeed through career mentoring, life skills development, goal setting, job readiness training, and career exploration.

THE PROGRAM

Workforce Prep is our structured and evidence-based seven-year program. With help from local businesspeople who volunteer as career mentors, students figure out what they'll do after high school and learn life and job readiness skills they will need to be successful. Topics include career exploration, skills development, strategic planning, and goal setting.

IT'S EASY TO BE A CAREER MENTOR

- Training before sessions start.
- Support before, during, and after every session.
- Each session starts with a staff member facilitating a short presentation. Then career mentors participate with their students in a structured and planned activity that is fun and reinforces the day's lesson.

CAREER MENTOR EXPECTATIONS

- Attend two evening training seminars.
- Attend two or three one-hour mentoring sessions per month, Nov. through May, at a school during the school day.
- Participate in an online interview and background check.
- Must be at least 24 years old.

THE PRESENTATION

We manage everything and will provide:

- Flyers and wording for invitations.
- Online career mentor application.
- Cost of background checks and supplies.
- Equipment needed for the presentation.
- Facilitation of the 20-30 minute online or in-person presentation.
